LICENSING FOR ELECTRICAL TECHNICIANS, WORKERS AND CONTRACTORS

Pursuant to section 148(1) of THE ENERGY ACT 2019, any person who wishes to carry out electrical installation work must be licensed by the Energy and Petroleum Regulatory Authority (EPRA). Consequently, section 151 (1) of the Act requires any person planning, building, operating or maintaining a transmission or distribution system to ensure that such works are carried out only by electrical contractors and electrical workers duly authorised by EPRA.

Further, Section 151(2) of the Act stipulates that owners or occupiers of any premises shall ensure that electrical installations are carried out by authorized electricians and technicians. They should ensure the installations are periodically inspected and any defects remedied.

Any person found carrying out substandard works or works that are not within the scope of their license will be contravening the conditions of their licenses under section 168 (1) (a) of the Act. They will be liable to an offence and shall upon conviction, be liable to a fine of not less than one million shillings, or to a term of imprisonment of not less than one year, or to both.

All licensed technicians, electrical workers and contractors are therefore advised to adhere to terms and conditions of the licenses issued to them.
